The Ultimate Glen Campbell Tribute Show

starring Jimmy Mazz

Glen Campbell is one of the most extraordinary rags to riches stories in popular music history. The 12th child and seventh son of a dirt poor sharecropper born in the depths of the depression in 1936, Campbell drowned when he was a toddler but lived miraculously after his brother resuscitated him, and Campbell always suspected it was because of his musical gift. From his time as a groundbreaking musician for Elvis, Frank Sinatra, The Beach Boys and many others there are few artists who have touched as many lives as the Rhinestone Cowboy. By the time Campbell won his sixth Grammy Award in 2014 for his final recording, "I'm Not Going to Miss You," he had won most every award and achieved every milestone available to musicians. One of the best-selling solo male artists in U.S. chart history, Campbell released more than 70 albums, selling 50 million copies with more than 80 songs charting. He is a member of the Country Music Hall of Fame and the Musicians Hall of Fame. He won the Country Music Association's Entertainer of the Year, twice won the Academy of Country Music's Album of the Year award and was named Male Vocalist of the Year by both. In 2012, he was bestowed the Grammy's most prestigious honor, a Lifetime Achievement Award.
